

Long-Range Strategic Plan for 2012-2017

www.amyregionallibrary.org

Mission Statement of the AMY Regional Library System

To help communities create and maintain a foundation for literacy, economic development and democracy.

Belief Statement

Economic development and maintaining democratic governance demands that a citizenry be properly educated, healthy, well informed and engaged in the ongoing life of their communities. Literacy in its many forms provides the underpinnings for these positive personal characteristics. The administration and staff of the AMY Regional Library strive to be an integral part of the daily lives of the residents in our 3 counties. It is our duty and responsibility to provide all residents with unique and excellent educational, recreational, informational, and cultural resources and services throughout each individual's lifespan. By building collaborative relationships with other agencies and institutions which have similar missions and goals, we are able to enhance the services of both and make the most effective use of our financial support.

Vision Statement

Residents in AMY served communities will make their libraries a focal point in their community. Our libraries will be inviting places where people of all ages, cultures, backgrounds, interests, and abilities will find friendly and caring assistance to help meet their educational, informational, cultural, health, consumer and recreational needs. For those who may not be able to come to the library to enjoy these benefits, they will have access to many of these services via the bookmobile and outreach van, "mini" branches in selected locations and a user friendly web presence.

Technology Planning and Management

Technology applications are essential and integrated components of AMY Regional Library operation and service and will be integrated into the long-range plan.

Technology Belief Statement

We subscribe to the idea that information technology applications in our libraries are similar to what Edward R. Murrow said about television: "This instrument can teach, it can illuminate; yes, and it can even inspire. But it can do so only to the extent that humans are determined to use it to those ends. Otherwise it is merely wires and lights in a box." Regardless of format, as quickly as we can afford its integration into our operations and services, we will pursue the most cost effective ways possible to provide our residents with access to, education about and assistance with current information and communications "wires and lights in or out of boxes".

By 2014, at least 97% of the buildings in our counties will have high speed internet access. However, based on data from our service records, surveys and focus groups, it is obvious that they will continue to depend upon their public libraries to provide high speed broadband internet access to support their learning, job searches and applications, social networking, recreation and personal empowerment. In collaboration with other agencies and institutions, we must provide digital literacy opportunities across the life-span for our residents to attain full digital citizenship. As we have replaced 33 1/3 records and 16mm films and complimented traditional print materials with tapes then CD's and now downloadable e-book formats we continue to explore ways in which we can provide our users with the same if not better opportunities as those anywhere else in the world. While the internet may dominate requests and perceived values of users, other information packages and technologies will remain to be much a part of our library services for our residents

Technology Vision Statement

Access, education and assistance are the hallmarks of AMY Regional Library Technology Services. The diverse residents of our three-county area and our staff will enjoy access to the most recent and effective information technology hardware, software, and connectivity; digital literacy instruction; and assistance when needed, which will help them to meet their service, educational, recreational, informational and cultural needs.
